the General Assembly merged MCV with the Richmond Professional Institute, founded in 1917, to create Virginia Commonwealth University. Today, nearly 32,000 students pursue 205 degree and certificate programs through VCU's 15 schools and one college. The VCU Health System supports the university’s health care education, research and patient care mission. With annual research support of nearly $225 million and a lively campus research environment, VCU is designated as a research university with high research activity by the Carnegie Foundation. Eighteen university-approved centers and institutes of excellence — involving faculty from multiple disciplines in public policy, biotechnology and health care discoveries — support the university’s research mission. Twenty-one graduate and first-professional programs are ranked by U.S. News and World Report among the best in their fields.
